BOARD OF HEALTH ELECTS OFFICERS

JOLIET – The Will County Board of Health re-elected John J. Hines Jr. as president November 18, during its regularly-scheduled monthly business meeting.

A Joliet resident since 1991, Hines has served on the Board of Health since 1998 and now begins his fifth successive term as president. He served as board vice president in 2004, and brings more than four decades of auditing, finance and accounting experience to his position of responsibility.

New Lenox resident Richard Brandolino has been elected vice president. James Zelko was re-elected secretary. Hines, Brandolino and Zelko are joined by Judith A. McDonald, who was re-elected (Member at Large).

The 12-member Board of Health has been overseeing Will County Health Department operations since 1947. The board meets on the third Wednesday monthly at the Health Department's 501 Ella Avenue complex in Joliet. Regularly-scheduled monthly business meetings take place in the lower level Community Room, commence at 3 p.m., and are open to the public.
