Illinois Confidentiality/Minor Consent Laws

A minor is a person under the age of 18.

IL age of consent: 17

– Age of Consent is the age at which a person’s consent to sexual intercourse is valid by law

– Illinois law requires a minor who seeks medical treatment to obtain consent from a parent or guardian. There are, however, several exceptions.

– Patients ages 12 and up have the right to the following WITHOUT parental/guardian consent:
  • Pregnancy testing and prenatal care
  • Birth control information and contraceptives
  • Testing and treatment for sexually transmitted diseases (STDs)
  • Anonymous HIV testing (some restrictions apply)
  • Counseling and treatment of any disease or injury suffered from acts of sexual assault or abuse

MINORS NEED A PARENT/GUARDIAN’S CONSENT FOR:

– Vaccines

HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS MUST OVERRIDE THE MINOR’S CONFIDENTIALITY AND REPORT IF:

– There is suspicion of abuse by an adult

– The minor is a risk to themselves or someone else

ABORTION SERVICES

A pregnant minor may consent to abortion services without parental consent. However, an adult family member—i.e., someone over 21 years of age who is the minor’s parent, grandparent, stepparent who lives in the minor’s home, or legal guardian—must be notified 48 hours before the abortion is performed.

CONFIDENTIALITY

If maximum confidentiality is important to an adolescent, then community-based family planning health centers (such as Title X clinics like the Will County Community Health Center or VNA Health Care) offer the maximum privacy protections.

ILLINOIS SAFE HAVEN

If you have given birth within the past 30 days and are in crisis, you can anonymously hand your unharmed baby to staff at any Illinois hospital, fire station, police station or emergency medical services provider per the Illinois Safe Haven Law. Your baby will be placed with a loving adoptive family.
The Illinois Department of Human Services (IDHS) received a federal Teen Pregnancy Prevention grant to focus on communities with high rates of teenage births and sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) among adolescents. The Will County Health Department (WCHD) was chosen to implement the Teen Pregnancy Prevention (TPP) program in Bolingbrook, Illinois as it was identified by IDHS to have a higher than average number of teen births and a high number of chlamydia and gonorrhea cases. Under the TPP grant, Community Health Educators have developed this guide that lists established links and referrals to a network of organizations that can provide high-quality, youth-friendly healthcare and social support services.
